ABSTRACT

Presented is a bibliography of 96 books and pamphlets concerned with the planning and modifying of recreational activities for physically handicapped children. Publications are listed alphabetically by author or distributor within four subject areas: recreation and recreational activities, residential and day camping, adapted physical education, and handicrafts and hobbies. Entries usually contain the title, author , a brief description of content, number of pages, distributor's address, and cost. Also provided are the addresses of 10 national associations and the title, cost, and content of recreational journals they publish. (SB)

RECREATION FOR THE HANDICAPPED

A Selection of Recent Books and Pamphlets

Compiled by the Library

Revised March, 1975

This bibliography is intended to identify currently available publications concerned with the planning of recreational activities modified for the physically handicapped. This list does not include any of the standard texts on recreation, physical education, camping, or handcrafts and hobbies. It is assumed that the user of this checklist would have access to the general literature on recreation or would be able to identify such references in libraries or from basic bibliographies on recreational subjects. New books are listed and reviewed in the recreational journals identified in the last section of this bibliography.

Texts on therapeutic exercise, which should be conducted under medical prescription and supervision, are also omitted, as beyond the subject scope of this bibliography. Titles in this and related areas are listed in Rehabilitation of the Physically Handicapped, a selective checklist of publications in print, which is available on request.

The books and pamphlets listed below have been previously indexed and reviewed in REHABILITATION LITERATURE, published monthly by the Society ($12.50 a year).

The list prices and publishers' addresses have been included as part of the references to help those who wish to acquire copies from the publishers or through their local bookstores.
